TABLE SUGGESTION IN REGARD TO THE PARKING PROBLEM

Doylestown C. of C. Hears
Recommendations of State
Traffic Engineer

QUESTION IS AISED

Survey Shows Merchants
Greatest Offenders in Congested Areas

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 20.—A suggestion made by the traffic engineer of the Penna. Highway Department to try one-side parking in the business section on Main street for 90 days, and to install parking meters, was tabled by directors of Doylestown Chamber of Commerce this week.

The suggestion, made by Hartley G. Gavert, traffic engineer of the state Highway Department, will be considered, however, after the board investigates the results of one-side parking now being tried in Jenkintown, Ardmore and Downingtown. After this information is secured, a recommendation will be made to the council for future action to improve traffic conditions on Main street.

Members of the board and a few other business men, one member of borough council and Doylestown's burgess attended the meeting held at the Fountain House, when Traffic Engineer Gavert presented his ideas which were advanced after a lengthy study of Doylestown's traffic problems.

President Hilson asked the traffic engineer to explain why the State Highway Department recently declared Doylestown to be the only town between Philadelphia and Easton with a bottleneck traffic hazard.

"So far as the Chamber of Commerce is concerned, we are not only interested in the streets of Doylestown and good traffic conditions but we are also interested in the residents of this community," President Hilson declared. "So far all the suggestions made to better traffic conditions have been attacked, and we would like to know what the state thinks about it."

Traffic Engineer Gavert replied by saying "the Doylestown situation has always been a tough one to handle. In fact traffic problems anywhere have been tough."

Head of Discussion: Miss Jane Rogers, Principal, Wood St. School.
Teacher Participants: Mrs. George Duffy, Mrs. L. Creighton Vandergrift, Miss Clara King, Miss Grace Haas, Mrs. William Slater.

Community Participants: Mrs. Fenton J. Larrisey, P. T. A.; Dr. Mary Lehman, health; Rev. E. G. Yeomans, religion; Mr. Anthony Russo, police dept.; Mr. Lawrence McCoy, fire dept.; Mrs. Bradley Ardrey, Mrs. Phillip Cohen, homework—parents of children.

Rev. Edward G. Yeomans, Pastor,
Bristol Presbyterian Church
Religion—

Our program of religious instructions held on Wednesdays for school children is very much in the experimental stage. Like the school teachers, we too have many problems. One of our big problems is the matter of material. Apparently, our church boards have not kept pace or are not in readiness for this program.

In some instances, we find that we are repeating what has already been given in Sunday school classes.

We also have the problem of discipline in a very marked degree. We feel that our difficulty is this: We get them at the end of the day after they have had about ten minutes liberty coming from their school to church. However, we feel confident that in due time we will be able to remedy this situation of loitering on the way to church. I solved this problem by informing my students that they would remain until the last individual arrived, and then class would commence.

We are far from satisfied with

Mrs. Bradley Ardrey—Homework
I do believe in homework, and I do not see any possible way of getting out of it. I think the amount of homework to be given depends on the individual child. Some can go through their homework in no time at all, while others have to be forced to do it, and it is a long drawn out process. If a child doesn't get his work done in school, I realize it must be done at home. I don't think homework should be given in too great an amount because the child needs some recreation. The parent should see that the child does his homework before his desired recreation is permitted to be carried out.

Mrs. Phillip Cohen—Homework
Homework should be given only in subjects that require additional study. Children do not have too much time in which to do homework after school. They come home at about three or four o'clock, and it is time for supper. Just a few hours after supper the lower grade children must be given a bath and are put to bed.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

A feeling of cautious optimism that despite grave differences agreement might yet be reached on Germany's economic unification was noted at yesterday's meeting of the Foreign Ministers' Council. Secretary Marshall warned Russia and France against a repetition of the mistakes after World War I and against permitting German industry to revive to a dangerous extent to meet reparations.

The Soviet commander in Hungary rejected the second United States' demand for an inquiry into Hungarian political affairs as "interference."

Two State Department officials assailed Communist and Russian tactics in speeches here. Assistant Secretary Braden said that barriers "raised by the Red and Black Fascists" halted world progress and that "totalitarianism of every color" must be exterminated. Assistant Secretary Benton accused Russia of "international libel" in her worldwide propaganda campaign of "psychological warfare" against the United States.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee reported out a $350,000,000 relief bill for six liberated countries hedged with numerous restrictions designed to prevent cash gifts or unrestricted use of American

80 SCHOLARSHIPS ARE PLANNED FOR SENIORS

Competitive Examinations
To Be Held In Each County
Seat On May 2nd

FOR $100 PER YEAR

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20.—Competitive examinations for the annual award to high school graduates of the Pennsylvania State Scholarships to colleges and universities, will be held in each county seat on May 2, 1947. Dr. Francis B. Haas, Superintendent of Public Instruction, announced today.

These scholarships, which amount to $100 per year for four years, were created by the General Assembly in 1919, "for the purpose of assisting worthy young men and women graduates of secondary schools of the State to obtain higher education."

There will be 80 of these scholarships granted this year for the law provides that one scholarship shall be awarded to each county and in any county where there is more than one entire senatorial district, one scholarship shall be awarded for each entire senatorial district. (State scholarships should be distinguished from Senatorial scholarships, which are handled directly by the legislators themselves.)

The law provides that the scholarship winners may attend any approved Pennsylvania institution of higher learning, and the State council of education is charged with the responsibility for the competitive examinations and the awards.

The examinations in the county seats will be conducted between the hours of 8:45 a. m., and 12 p. m., and will be of approximately three hours duration. Dr. Haas said. The tests will be held under the supervision of the County Superintendents and they will announce the specific location of the examinations.

Pupils 21 years old or older are not eligible, it was announced, nor are those who are 1947 graduates of secondary schools who had previously graduated from any accredited four-year, six-year junior-senior, or senior secondary school.

With those exceptions the competition is open for any pupil graduated at mid-year, January, 1947, or with the spring class, 1947, from any accredited public, private or parochial four-year, six-year junior-senior, or senior secondary school in the Commonwealth if he or she is a legal resident.

The State Council of Education has directed that the principal of each secondary school having eligible candidates shall announce the contest and date prior to the examination and shall submit a list of all applicants 30 days before the examination.

The winners will be announced by Dr. Haas.

ONE PARTY, OR TWO?

Many recent events highlight the revolutionary effect of the new Truman "line" in foreign and domestic fields.

The nature of the changes in policy made by the President after his party's defeat at the November election are only slowly coming to the American public's attention; but the results are visible on all sides.

The new strategy is simple to define. As a means of trying to rebuild his Democratic Party, and seeking to get back into the running as a prospect to succeed himself at the 1948 elections, President Truman broke with his former advisers, and abandoned the program he had inherited from the late President Roosevelt.

He brought into national power, first as his closest advisers, and secondly as his most important appointees, a group which never previously enjoyed such overwhelming command of any National Administration—the professional soldiers.

The initial steps were shielded by the plea that, since foreign affairs were so sensitive, we needed a "bipartisan" approach. In practice, this translated into the Republican majority in the U. S. Senate (the House was not directly involved) giving the President a free hand.

The policy and program was not truly "bipartisan" at all. The President got his own way. True, in such relatively minor appointments as those of Lilienthal and Biddle, there has been delay; but the key appointments went through without objection.

There was no compromise in what the President wanted; or if there was compromise, it was like the old story of the man who wanted to stay home when his wife wanted to go shopping, and so they compromised by going shopping.

The national control, in the most important fields, is not bipartisan, but one-party—and that the Democratic, New Deal or Truman Party, whichever term you prefer.

In the most urgent of all current national issues, foreign or domestic, it is hard to think of a single point where the new Republican majorities in Congress may be said to have forced any important modification upon the White House.

So quietly that the American people hardly yet seem aware what has happened, the White House has made two fundamental changes which will have profound effects upon many generations to come.

"New Bridge" Bill Before Senate Committee

Harrisburg—A measure that would permit the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission to construct new bridges or repair existing structures spanning the Delaware River in Bucks County today was before Senate Highways Committee. Sponsored by Sen. Edward B. Watson (R) Bucks, the measure would provide a supplemental compact between New Jersey and Pennsylvania to authorize the Commission to sell its bridge revenue bonds for "rehabilitating or replacing existing bridges."

Thousands More Marooned in England

London—Scores of rain-swollen rivers in England burst their banks today and marooned additional thousands of families. The flood chaos became more widespread in both the north and south as a result of heavy new rains during the night.

A number of major towns, including Nottingham, were completely cut off by the surging waters inundating homes and farmlands. Army and police officials, fearing a worse flooding of the Thames valley in the next 48 hours, drew up plans to evacuate another 10 thousand persons marooned in homes. The flood victims will be taken to temporary billets.

The army meanwhile rushed aid to one thousand persons in the Yorkshire mining town of Bentley who had been without food for 24 hours. Special aid squads were dispatched following an appeal by Ebbelyn Walkden, Laborite member of Parliament from Doncaster, to Cabinet members during a night session of the House of Commons.

Pope Asks Christians to "Rally at Cross"

Rome—Pope Pius XII issued his first encyclical since the end of the war today, calling upon Christians to rally to the cross at a moment "when everything seems to be tottering."

The Roman Catholic Pontiff's message lamented Allied bombing of the Benedictine Abbey of Monte Cassino during the war. He took particular occasion to refer to Saint Benedict of Nursia, founder of the Abbey and father of western monasticism as a salient example of learning and piety in an age of trouble and disaster.

HOW DO YOU FEEL REGARDING TRAIN SERVICE HERE?

Bristol Chamber of Commerce Has Received Complaints and Wants to Hear from You

ARE YOU INTERESTED?

Eager to Learn What is Actually Needed and Desired By Residents Here

Is Bristol's train service poor? Do the people of Bristol want better train service?

If so, just what is desired in the way of improved service?

These are the questions which the Bristol Chamber of Commerce wants to solve.

The Chamber of Commerce appealed to the Courier today to aid in crystallizing public opinion upon the subject.

The communication below is self-explanatory:
Editor, Courier:

This letter concerns itself with a chronic complaint registered by the citizens and industry of Bristol in various fashions over many months—Bristol's train service.

Since our organization was formed we have received numerous complaints about the train service of our community. Some of these complaints have offered constructive suggestions for improvement of our train service. Too many, however, have been nothing more than critical.

The Bristol Chamber of Commerce recognizes that a problem does exist and it is interested in determining if there can be an equitable solution.

This can be accomplished, we feel, by crystallizing public opinion as to what is actually needed and desired in train service for Bristol.

We will be grateful, indeed, if you will publish this letter in the Bristol Courier. All of those persons who are interested in Bristol's train service are asked to write and mail their suggestions to the Secretary, Bristol Chamber of Commerce.

Very truly yours,

JOSEPH H. ELBERSON, Sec'y,
Bristol Chamber of Commerce

Nominating Committee Named for P. T. A. Group

HULMEVILLE, Mar. 20.—A nominating committee was appointed by President Ned Moyer, Sr., when members of Hulmeville-Middletown Parent-Teacher Association met in the school house for the March business session last evening. The committee is inclusive of: Mrs. Robert Taylor, Mrs. Federick, and Mrs. George Bilger.

Members were informed that during the week of April 17th pupils from the local school will have the privilege of going to Langhorne school for the purpose of having chests X-rayed as a check against tuberculosis. The cost is small, and transportation will be provided in the school bus. The Bucks County Tuberculosis and Health Society will conduct the clinic.

Forty-five members plus one honorary member were reported on the list by Miss Margaret Perry, membership chairman. Arrangement was made to send a small donation to the "Founder's Day" gift fund.

A collection taken last evening netted $4.15 for the annual Easter egg hunt to be held at Washington Crossing State Park on April 5th at 10 a. m. Mrs. Edward Pickering, 3d, reported plans for the hunt, the ages of participants being changed this year, with a limit of 12 years.

Rather than prizes being given for largest numbers of eggs found, the eggs will be marked for prizes, thus giving the small children equal opportunity with the older ones. Another meeting of the committee will be held at the Taylor House, Washington Crossing, on March 30th, at eight p. m.

Miss Benton, a member of the local faculty, was introduced by Principal Frank Binder. Attendance award winner for last evening is grade two, taught by Miss Perry.

Minutes and the treasurer's report were presented by Mrs. Earl Foster and N. P. Larson, respectively, and the treasury balance being nearly $300.

The entertainment of the evening was presented by Miss Jane Furtick and Mrs. Tybesky, of the Philadelphia Inter-State Dairy Council, the title of the presentation being "A-Peel, A-Peel and Appeal with Mrs. Pennyfeather."

The committee in charge of refreshments included: Mrs. Charlotte Walsh, Mrs. Phillip Smith, Mrs. H. Crawford and Mrs. Robert Taylor.

TIME OF TRIBULATION

It was during the reign of Queen Anne that Britain was beset by a tempest so great that it still was remembered a century afterward as The Storm. In this last month the nation has been well-nigh paralyzed in a siege of snow and ice almost unprecedented in the temperate zone. Future generations of Britons may refer to it as The Winter.

Last week a fierce blizzard, instead of a predicted thaw, left the country's transport in chaos again. Snowdrifts "as high as the telegraph poles" block the roads. Coal trains were stalled at the pits. London was cut off from Birmingham, or vice versa. More than 100 villages were utterly isolated. Farmers were unable to reach their fields to feed cattle. London's traffic tieup was the worst in 25 years.

Britons cannot understand why this has to be after they already have endured so much hardship and deprivation. The belt of milder weather, which had been promised for England, went to France instead and Paris had its first breath of spring. The new blizzard was a bitter blow to a Britain struggling to get going after a nation-wide switch-off of electricity to avert fuel starvation.

Oh, well, spring will come to England sometime — seasonal spring, that is—but it will still have the Labor government and it will no longer have an empire. England is in a condition similar to that of France immediately preceding World War II. The French would not work and she became an easy victim of Germany. The English today are at tempting to solve their problems via a socialist government instead of by sweat, with the inevitable results.

SHOULD RETAIN INSURANCE

In conducting a nationwide campaign to urge veterans of World War II to reclaim their lapsed national service life insurance, the Veterans Administration is engaged in a truly commendable enterprise which merits the serious consideration of all former servicemen. There is no question that this is the best insurance a veteran can buy.

The campaign to induce veterans to help themselves, which was opened in Washington by General Bradley, chief of the Veterans Administration, will run into next month. The tempo will gradually pick up with emphasis constantly being laid upon the reinstatement of lapsed accounts, something which veterans should need little urging to do.

Disaster Loan Corporation has gone out of business, the administration having decided perhaps everything has happened that can happen.

Germans, who slaughtered populations of other lands on short rations, now complain that they are too hungry to work.

Other nations continue to adhere firmly to the conviction that American money is the source of happiness.

Table Suggestion In Regard To Parking

"Doylestown, for instance, has three traffic lanes on Main street, but under present conditions there are barely two lanes available, when you allow parking on both sides of the street."

Engineer Gafvert pointed out the fine results of one-side parking along the Main Line sections, such as Ardmore, where parking meters have also been installed.

The traffic engineer, who assured the Chamber of Commerce directors that he is very familiar with conditions in Doylestown, said that parking meters will help a lot in this community so far as traffic control is concerned. He added, however, that parking meters cannot be considered a money-raising feature.

"Here in Doylestown for instance," Engineer Gafvert said, "a survey made several years ago showed that owners of business parked all day in front of their own places, making any kind of traffic control impossible."

"By eliminating parking on the East side of Main street you will invite business to come to Doylestown. Whether it will promote receipts, we cannot tell, but that is the Department's recommendation—that you try it for 90 days."

"Any community that does not provide parking facilities is going to lose in the end, that's a certainty. Your business men are going to lose out in the long run with poor parking regulations, and eventually real estate values will decline."

Frank T. Reynolds, a merchant, strongly opposed the traffic engineer's suggestion about one-sided parking. He advocated the original suggestion of the chamber's traffic committee to widen Main street as the only means of improving conditions.

Frank W. Ely, another merchant, told Gafvert that "we need all the parking we can get in Doylestown. It seems to me as though the State is just looking after through traffic by making it easier to pass through town... the trucks and buses for instance. I admit that we need regulated traffic, but as business men we are interested in getting parking space for people to shop."

Burgess George C. Butler expressed the opinion that it would be well for Doylestown to try out one-side parking and that, in his opinion, the result will be surprising.

Engineer Gafvert called attention to the fact that the State has the right to come into Doylestown and make its own regulations if necessary, with state police seeing that regulations are carried out, but he assured the Chamber directors that the State does not want to take that action under any circumstances.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening. If you just sprinkle a little FAS-TEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store. (Advertisement)

ONE PARTY, OR TWO?

One is to swing this nation into a course of militarization. The second is to plunge it into direct conflict with the one other great power remaining on the globe, Russia.

As a political proposition, the winner (to date) is easy to pick. The strategy has permitted President Truman to stage one of the most amazing "comebacks" in history. Recent polls purport to prove that he is again in the favor of more than half of the American electorate, only a matter of weeks after one of the lowest recorded ebbs.

His gain has been the Republican Party's loss, according to these statistics. But the purely political side of the matter is, after all, one of its least important phases, compared with the welfare and destiny of the nation.

One highly important principle which is involved is that of whether this is to be a one-party or two-party nation.

Save for brief periods of unquestioned emergency, usually in the midst of war, the United States has been consistently a two party nation from its origin. This has been in contrast with two other forms—the multi-party system, such as many foreign nations still use, in which combinations (and hence concessions) between factions are necessary to obtain a majority; and the one-party system, used by the Nazis, Fascists, Russian Communists, and all other advocates of totalitarianism.

The breaking down of the two-party system, which has been one of the most significant developments of this winter (despite the small attention paid to it) is in itself a revolutionary change in American methods. As a peacetime development, it is completely without precedent.

The stage to which it has developed is shown in the recent statements of the Republican National Chairman, Carroll Reese, who has protested heatedly but—thus far and as pertains to the U. S. Senate—with small success. (In the House, which has no direct say in the appointments and foreign policy which have been the main fields involved, the Reese position has been rather well supported under Speaker Martin).

The most vigorous Reese statement was that of a few days ago, in which the Chairman accused the President of using his promises of unity and co-operation as a screen for sabotaging the G. O. P.

The "bipartisan" complex of certain Republican leaders in the Senate already has produced some amazing fruit. Sensational changes in national policy have been sanctioned without opposition or protest. Even in the matter of executive spending and taxation, present trends are for the President to wind up with a budget considerably bigger than he ever dared hope, and with a new lease of life for New Deal deficit-financing and inflation.

The most amazing phase of this is the manner in which public debate on some of the Truman innovations has been headed off. Because they were described as "bipartisan," these new schemes received none of the careful examination they would have been given had, for example, the principle of "loyal opposition" been in effect.

From the point of the American people, this is a course which flirts with disaster. Freedom of speech is a matter of the utmost urgency for free government—particularly on the floor of the U. S. Congress. When it is stifled for any reason, it means that only one side of a matter is considered. The fact that it is stifled at the source, and that opposition is discouraged by use of the label of "bipartisan," doesn't make the damage any less severe.

The fact remains that the President has been permitted to get into revolutionary and dangerous new policies, some of which point to another World War and others to the overthrow of civilian control of this nation, without any critical examination of what these policies are or where they come out.

How little the President himself is being fooled by his clever use of the "bipartisan" tag is clear enough. He's busy running for renomination and re-election; and he isn't doing it (as Lincoln, for instance, did for his own re-election) on any "fusion" or "unity" ticket; he plans to run as a partisan member of the Democratic party.

Chairman Reese has good reason to be alarmed at the dangers he sees.

PANEL DISCUSSION

Rev. Edward G. Yeomans, Pastor, Bristol Presbyterian Church

I want to familiarize you with our present release time and instruction program, simply because it is in the experimental stage. We are still trying to adapt ourselves to the situation and to get sufficient material. However, we have been very fortunate in having a good teaching staff. We have been able to get all trained teachers, and we feel that this has been a real asset to us. Our hope is that gradually we will build up the teaching staff entirely of former school teachers and let the preacher become a critic and assistant on the sidelines.

To Resume Highway Construction Soon

approximately 500 feet northwest of the intersection, swing to the east and intersect Rogers Road about 224 feet from the center of the new highway. This will mean that at the main intersection only Route 13 (present route), the new highway and Rogers Road will meet. Motorists travelling Newport Road will reach the main intersection via a small portion of Rogers Road.

Rogers road will be widened for a distance of approximately 450 feet from the center of the intersection, the widened part being of concrete.

What is now known as Bristol Pike (Route 13), to the west of the intersection, is to be widened 16 feet, 8 inches more for a distance of 500 feet, making an over-all width in that area of 52 feet.

The roadway at the underpass of the railroad, carrying Route 13 into Bristol, is also to be widened as far as concrete is concerned.

The roadway is to have 18 feet of additional paving as far as width is concerned, making a four-lane section. This extension in width is to be carried 200 feet beyond the underpass (south).

The main intersection on the north side of the railroad will measure approximately 160 feet in each direction.

The new section of Newport Road is to be macadam. In eliminating the portion of Newport Road from the intersection to a point 500 feet northwest, there will be afforded a place for a grass plot, representatives of the contracting firm state.

The roadway there is to be eliminated entirely.

The installation of storm sewers at and near the intersection will eliminate the drainage problem which now exists, it is stated.

The underground facilities now being installed at the railroad underpass include some which will in the future provide for an automobile recorder (for counting passing cars). "Eventually there are to be located near the intersection, at the four approaches, 'vehicle detectors'."

states Mr. Diamond. "Provision is being made now for installation of such at a future date. These control traffic more effectively than automatic set-timing clocks."

Comparatively new devices, the vehicle detectors are of a type that have been placed on newer highways throughout the country during the past 10 years. Facilities are being arranged in such manner that traffic lights controlled in this manner can be set up later at each approach to the intersection. Automobiles passing over certain sections of the paving, beneath which are placed the controls, automatically "set" their own traffic lights, and when the "go" signal is set off for cars in one direction, the "stop" light will be automatically set on other arteries.

Mr. Lawrence McCoy
Fire Prevention

I want to familiarize you with our Fire Department. We have fourteen pieces of fire apparatus, nine paid men, and a part-paid chief. When an alarm comes in, no matter what time of day or night, the first piece of fire apparatus leaves with two men. Then a third man drives the ladder truck.

Last year we received eleven false alarms. We caught three children out of the eleven who turned in the false alarms. We know definitely that one was turned in by an adult. The other two turned out to be girls.

One of the biggest causes of fires is oil stoves. Do away with them! Install natural gas or electric stoves. Oil stove jets get clogged with dirt, and the pressure causes an explosion. We have had twenty-two fires in 1946 which were caused by oil stoves.

Another cause of fires is Christmas trees. Never put Christmas trees under an open stairway, because this creates a draft which draws the flames up the stairs.

Always be careful when using gasoline or volatile fluids. This causes more deaths and accidents than can be imagined.

So follow our Navy slogan: "Loin or Boil."

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. L. L. Clark, Th. M., Pastor
First Baptist Church

We thank Thee, dear God, that Thou has not left us to ourselves; but that in Thy tender mercies Jesus Christ came to reveal to mankind Thy great heart of love. We know that that love was made manifest when Jesus died on the Cross for our sins and rose again that we might be justified in Thy sight. At this season of the year, dear Lord, we cannot but thank Thee for so great a salvation as we have in Him. Bless us in this salvation for His sake. Amen.

SHOPPING TIPS FOR BUDGETEERS

BOYS' COATS. The Snellenburg Boys' Dept. has a $19.75 group of fine 100% wool topcoats, in sizes 6 to 12, for youngsters four to ten years. They are in the newest fabric patterns, and in the most desirable spring shades. You mothers will approve of the tailoring, the smart, inset sleeves, smooth shoulders, fly fronts. Dress up those boys for Easter! (2nd fl.)

SWEETS FOR EASTER. Easter is one season that most of us feel free to eat candies to our hearts' content and tummies' satisfaction. That's why I'm glad that the Snellenburg Candy Dept. have a special allowance of those all-cocoa, chocolate-covered eggs, impossible to buy through the war years. The luscious things are priced at 50c for half-pound eggs, $1 for pound eggs. You can order ahead for Easter delivery. Also, Snellenburgs have boxes and boxes of Americans' favorite chocolate buds—Wilbur's—at 50c a half-pound box. So nice for Easter baskets. (1st fl.)

HANDY TOY SPOT. For the convenience of patrons doing Easter gift shopping for small fry, the Snellenburg store has put a gay toy counter right inside the 12th St. door. That the counter is really in a delightful touch, for the Easter counter is running over with stuffed Peter Rabbits of all descriptions! Some of them are dressed, some of them have doll faces, and some of these toys are just beautiful "natural" bunnies. All are cuddly, and are guaranteed to give joy to their future owners. Prices range from $2 to $4.98. There are other fascinating Easter toys, too! (1st fl.)

REMEMBER how, as a child, you adored a new purse? It even took precedence over new patent leather shoes! There wasn't much of a selection then, but now you should see the Snellenburg collection of children's and sub-adult handbags! I couldn't begin to count the styles, but they are miniature versions of mother's very latest, from under-arm to shoulder-strap beauties. There are different sizes, suitable for two-year-olds to real young ladies of sixteen. There is a choice of fashionable plastics or genuine leathers, in practically every spring color. $1 to $4.85. These purses will make lovely gifts. Find them in the regular Handbag Dept. 20% tax. (1st fl.)

WHY PAY MORE—if your budget is low—for a flattering Easter hat, when there's one of the nicest, reasonably priced groups in town awaiting you in the First Floor Millinery Dept. of Snellenburgs? Prices there are but $1.95 to $5.75, yet the most fastidious young woman or matron will be able to find a hat which seems especially made for her. The place is a glamorous riot of pom-poms, ribbons, flowers, and veils. Brims are large, small; crowns open, closed. The very fashionable shapes are in all the season's approved colors, including the favorite "toast." Now hurry to pretty yourselves! (1st fl.)

IN TIME for Easter giving to gardeners is the new assortment of famous Snellenburg rose bushes, not blooming but ready to plant. There are many varieties of roses offered, but a special fondness for the hybrid teas at 95c each. There are so many "can." To mention only a few, there are American Beauties, Edith Perkins, Pink Pearls, President Hoovers, Sister Therasas, Lady Ashtons, Golden Dawns, and climbing Paul Scarlots and climbing American Beauties, etc. Garden Dept. (1st fl.)

LINE THAT SLIM. The spring models in the Snellenburg Women's Suit Dept. are worth seeing. There's a group, priced at $35 to $69.50, that has particularly waist-slimming lines for figures wearing 31½ to 43½. These suits have all the new touches. There are regular length and the new long length jackets, slashed and gored skirts. Some models are softly tailored, others severely so. Fabrics are mostly tweills and crepes, of all wool. You'll adore the latest pale "sart," the new soft greens, the clever blacks, spring browns, etc. (2nd fl.)

SUB-DEBBIES are already flocking to the Snellenburg Girls' Millinery Dept. for their Easter bonnets. There's no wider variety even for mothers and aunts than this department's display for young ladies seven to fourteen. For quality and style, these sub-deb hats are amazingly reasonable in price—$2.99 to $2.95. Some are copies of young movie stars' hats! Girls like—Scotties, George Washingtons, open and closed crowns, bonnets, sailors, rollers, derbies, etc. Do take the little ladies shopping in this satisfying Girls' Dept. (2nd fl.)

P.S. Do send clippings with mail orders when you can! Phone free (5c, 10c, and 15c out-of-town calls only). Penna.—ENT. 10160; Jersey—WX-1150, Shop located Market, 11th to 12th Sts. Phila.—through to 1135-29 Chestnut St. Be hearn' from you!

FIFTH WARD SPORTERS WIN THE CHAMPIONSHIP OF YOUTH LEAGUE BY OUTCLASSING ST. ANN'S JUNIORS

The Fifth Ward Sporters won the championship of the Bristol Youth League last night by outclassing the St. Ann's Juniors, 40-22, in a one-sided match on the Mutual Aid floor. There was no doubt as to the superiority of the teams last night as the Warders hooped in field goal after field goal. The "Saints" were never in the contest and were trailing by a big margin shortly after the opening whistle. At one stage of the game, the Sporters were in front by a 30-10 lead.

The Fifth Ward team played a pressing close game against the St. Ann's contingent, causing the Saints to become erratic in their passing and shooting. On three occasions St. Ann's lost the ball for failure to find a player open on a throw-in and two other times, Fifth Ward players intercepted throw-ins under the basket and converted them into field goals.

"Eddie" Mazzanti and "Tommy" Holden, guards on the Fifth Ward team played the way for the triumph with their fine defensive work and also aiding in the scoring with 12 of the 40 points.

"Joe" Massi provided the St. Ann's only consolation when he succeeded in holding the usually high-scoring "Vince" DiTanna to four field goals. However, DiTanna still led his team in scoring with 10 points and also did some very nice passing.

"Reds" Feole was high scorer for the losing aggregation with 4 field goals and a foul for nine points.

The Fifth Ward team will now play the winners of the Trenton Youth League which is finishing this week.

Mark Is New Record For The Lower Bucks School Circuit

"Johnny" Pindar, ace forward of the Bristol High Bunnies, led the Lower Bucks County League in scoring the past season with 276 points made with 119 field goals and 38 fouls. The mark is a new record for the Lower Bucks circuit. Pindar also broke the individual scoring mark for a single game with 44 points, besting the former record held by George Chewing, of Falls Township. Pindar averaged 22.5 points per game.

Second place honors in scoring went to Don Foti, of Morrisville, and "Dezzy" DeLise, of the Bunnies, who were deadlocked with 171 each.

However, Foti did not play in as many games as DeLise and averaged 15.5 points per game while DeLise's average was 14.2. Dick Bauer, Southampton, captured fourth place honors, while Jack Hansen, of Bensalem, came in fifth.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent urination, passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging headache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully for millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

NEW USES ARE FOUND FOR PA. ANTHRACITE

Research Agencies Busy On Development of Non-
Fuel Uses

VALUABLE PROPERTIES

(Prepared for the Courier by the State Planning Board of the Department of Commerce.)

One of the most important projects now being undertaken by several research agencies in the State is the development of non-fuel uses for anthracite.

It is not likely that for many years more anthracite will be used industrially than is employed in the heating of American homes, but within recent years the many valuable properties of this mineral are receiving increased attention.

Anthracite is the purest form of solid carbon found in nature with the exception of graphite and the diamond. Its geological history goes back to remote ages when a dense growth of tree ferns and club-mosses occupied most of the present area of Pennsylvania. Decay of this vegetation in the moist air of that distant age formed huge beds of plant mold which, as the land subsided, were covered with thick layers of mud. After this material had hardened through long ages, it was subjected to very great side pressures originating in the bed of the Atlantic Ocean. It is these pressures which produced the peculiar properties of anthracite as compared to bituminous coal, and since the pressures resulted in the folding and uplifting of the areas in which the coal measures are found, they have also added greatly to the difficulties of anthracite mining.

One consequence of this history has been that anthracite is a much denser material than any other form of coal and contains less gas and oil. That is why anthracite is so widely used as a smokeless fuel. Its industrial uses are quite different from those of bituminous coal, but it is only in recent years that they have been much developed. For instance, it is found that Pennsylvania's hard coal is the best filter medium for municipal use that has yet been developed. Because it is an almost pure form of carbon, it does not react with the chemical salts in a water supply and can be washed much cleaner than silica sand. It is also lighter in weight and cleans more easily. Because of these advantages it has been employed in municipal water filters in more than thirty of our states and in several foreign countries.

Reduced to pure carbon anthracite becomes a raw material for the manufacture of many electrical products such as telephone carbon, carbon brushes for motors, and carbon battery plates. It is used in the sintering of ores, in the manufacture of graphite, as a pigment in paint, and as a road-making material.

By the application of heat and steam, anthracite can be transformed into activated carbon, which is used in gas masks and for the absorption of coloring matter and objectionable odors in water that has been used in industrial processes. Anthracite producer gas can be used as a source for many chemical products.

The Anthracite Institute recently reported that more than 2,200,000 tons of hard coal are used every year for non-fuel purposes, and this is probably only the beginning of a new chapter in the history of the State's unique raw material.

THE CAPITOL WHIRL

A Digest of Things Political Occurring At Harrisburg

HARRISBURG, Mar. 20 — The budget presented to the general assembly by Gov. James H. Duff was only the 13th biennial financial report in the commonwealth's 157-year history. It was not until 1923 that the late Governor Pinchot decided to abolish the old or-miss method of financing the commonwealth's activities and ordered preparation of the first budget. In 1923, the budget for the biennium amounted to $42,928,761 compared with $945,968,321 for the 1947-49 biennium. The general fund, which finances governmental operations, amounted to $60,723,975 in 1923 while the next budget lists $574,697,145. The comparison serves as an indication of how much Pennsylvania's governmental responsibilities have increased in a quarter of a century.

Duff's budget message generally was well received among lawmakers although senate minority leader John H. Dent hauled off with what he hoped would be a haymaker when he accused the governor of having "lied" to voters in the gubernatorial campaign last fall. Dent apparently erroneously believed Duff had promised tax reductions. A scrutiny of campaign talks, however, failed to reveal any such commitment; as a candidate Duff carefully sidestepped pledging tax reduction. Budget officers gave up the idea of tax reduction shortly after V-J day in 1945.

Newsmen attending a confidential budget session with Duff and his advisors the day before the message to the general assembly had a new experience. Duff was the first governor who really understood his budget and had all the facts marshalled in his own mind before the session. He deferred only twice to budget secretary Edward

B. Logan on certain points. Most governors have been willing to allow the budget secretary to carry the ball during the confidential sessions.

The Tennessee walking horse presented Duff by Gov. Jim McCord of Tennessee will be stabled near the summer residence for governors on the Indiantown Gap military reservation 17 miles from Harrisburg. He has named the horse "Buck Private". The governor, an experienced horseman, intends to move into the beautiful home in the early spring and stay there until late next fall. The native fieldstone house was erected during the tenure of ex-governor Martin and persons disliking the former governor of his administration deliberately spread the erroneous report that the home was being erected with the state funds for Martin's ownership. The truth is that the home belongs to the state, specifically the department of property and supplies. Martin paid the state a rental for the home.

Martin, now a U. S. Senator, appears to enjoy his new duties. During a brief visit to the capitol he said "things were going along all right". His Washington staff is composed of men and women who served under him at Harrisburg. They include Secretary George Bloom, of Washington, publicity man Charles Knapton, former city editor of the defunct Philadelphia Public Ledger, and Mrs. Lucella Boesen, of Harrisburg, his private secretary.

Politicians expect Fall primary elections in odd numbered years to signal the return of old fashioned campaigns such as have been missing for several years. Elections extending back through 1944 have been marked by spring primaries so election boards could distribute soldier ballots at home and abroad and the canvass returns before the general election in November. Politicians in Republican and Democratic camps found it difficult to keep enthusiasm whipped up over summer months and consequently interest was reflected by the turnout at the polls. With exception of 1946, when the GOP landslide highlighted the picture, other elections were carried out amid utter apathy. Last year, the old political axiom held true — and that was that the voters were not voting "for" candidates but "against" entrenched power.

The 25th biennial dinner tendered assemblymen by the Pennsylvania legislative correspondents association will be held April 8 at Harrisburg. Governor Duff, his cabinet, and other state officials will be joined by U. S. Sen. Edward Martin and possibly U. S. Senator Francis Myers. Highlight of the dinner will be the gridiron show during which Martin's tenure as governor will be lampooned in a series of skits. The initial weeks of Duff's administration also will be subjected to good natured "ribbing". It will be the first gridiron show since 1941 due to the war. The theme of the show, prompted by the unprecedented demands from organizations for more state money, prompted newsmen to select "The Great Gold Rush."

Falls Alumni Will Stack Up Against Rohm & Haas Quintet

PROFY'S - BURLINGTON

Managers of Rival Teams Announce Their Starting Line-Ups

Eliminations for the playoffs of the Bristol Basketball League will continue tonight on the high school floor. The Falls Alumni team meets the Rohm and Haas quintet to decide who should enter the final playoffs next week.

As an added attraction, the Profy team, regular season champions of the Bristol Basketball League, will meet Burlington, of the Burlington City League. This game will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Falls Alumni earned the right to meet Rohm and Haas by topping the Hibernians by seven points Tuesday night. Rohm and Haas beat the Fifth Ward Sporting Club by the close margin of two points to enter the semi-finals.

Manager "Bill" Lovett, of the Alumni team, will have in his starting line-up: "Freddie" Brigle, "Charlie" Duerr, Al Monti, George Chevening, and George Lovett. On his reserve list, Lovett has such former Fallsington players as: Kenny Parr, Ken Anderson, Norman White, Joe Brelsford, "Bill" Baker, Art Driscoll and "Ken" Hermann, formerly of Bristol High.

Jess Vanzant is manager of the chemical mixers and will use the following in his starting line-up: Pat Carnvale, Warren Carnvale, Augie Everitt, "Chuck" Klein and Seddie Caro. The Carnvale brothers hall from Burlington while Everitt and Klein are graduates of Langhorne High. Caro is a former Bristol High star. Substitutes for the Rohm and Haas team are: Nick Mancini, M. Hutchison, Joe Elmer.

Clyde Betts, Fred Stewart, Boscal Rice, and Claude Cammille. Against Profy's, Burlington is expected to take over such players as Dan Taggart, Dick Mingin, Danny Keegan and Joe Costello. The latter three played in both the Bristol and Burlington Leagues this season.

MOBILE TELEPHONE SERVICE

NEW YORK. (INS) — By the middle of 1947, more than half of the cities in the United States with populations of 100,000 or more, and nearly 5,000 miles of the busiest highways will have mobile telephone service.

BUYER GETTING CHOOSY

COLUMBUS. (INS) — Dairymen are likely to find in 1947 that buyers will be more particular about the quality of cream for which they pay top prices. R. A. Larsen, department of dairy technology, Ohio State University, says Ohio buyers paid No. 1 prices for a lot of No. 2 grade cream in 1946.

FLASH! HORNUNG LEADS THE WAY with HOMOGENIZED BEER

RICH CREAMY SMOOTHNESS IN EVERY DROP!

And Oh Boy! What A Marvelously Appetizing, Satisfying Flavor! You'll say: "I've Never Tasted Such Rich Beer— This is Great—The Very Best Ever!"

Hornung's said: "Milk is homogenized, so is peanut butter, so is bread—why not try homogenizing beer?" So they did! To the time honored Hornung Brewing method (maintained through five generations of the Hornung Family) and without changing the famous Hornung recipe of vine-ripened Hops and evenly roasted Barley Malt, Hornung's have added modern homogenization which brings out every iota of flavor of the "Inner Richness" of the Hops and Malt and gets rich flavor in every molecule of Hornung Beer.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh Do Men Like Women? Maybe you read that recent article in a national magazine, claiming that American men don't really like the company of women. They just put them up on a pedestal and leave them there. But I wouldn't say that that was so in our town. Look at any married couple—like the Cuppers. Jane wouldn't nag if Dee spent his evenings "with the boys"—but actually Dee likes nothing better than to stay home by the fire, sharing a glass of beer with Jane, playing cribbage, or just talking. And when he does go out, for an afternoon of fishing down at Seward's Creek, or for an evening glass of beer at Andy Botkin's Garden Tavern, Jane is almost always with him (except when she's got a spot of baking in the oven). From where I sit, respect doesn't rule out everyday companionship... and never should. They go together—essential parts of a successful marriage. Joe Marsh
